DETAILED ACTION

The restriction requirement on last Office Action is moot in view of the amendment filed July 17, 2003 to cancel claims 1-13 and 28-36.

Claims 14-27 and 37-44 are presented for Examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14-27 and 37-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Young et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,331,000) of record.

Young et al. teach a composition comprising optically pure R(-) ketoprofen as the active ingredient or a pharmaceutically acceptable salts in the amount of about 12.5mg to about 1000mg within Applicants' claimed amounts set forth in claims 17-19, 23-25 and 38-43. (abstract, column 7, lines 34-40, claims). Young et al. teach the composition is suitable for oral administration may be presented as discrete units such as capsules or tablets (solid) set forth in Applicants' claims 16, 26 and 27. (column 7, lines 8-15). Young et al. teach the composition contains at least 90% by weight of R(-) ketoprofen and 10% by weight or less of the corresponding S(+) ketoprofen which reads and encompasses Applicants' claims 20-22. (column 5, lines 15-19). Young et al. teach the composition preferably contains at least 99% by weight of R(-) ketoprofen and 1% or less of the corresponding S(+) ketoprofen reads on Applicants' claim 22. (column 5, lines 19-30).

Applicants' recitation in claims an intended use of treating tinnitus or ringing in the ear or a specific types of pain does not represent a patentable limitation since such fails to impart any physical limitation to the very same composition taught by Young et al.

For these reasons the claimed subject matter is deemed to fail to patentably distinguish over the state of the art as represented by the cited references. The claims are therefore properly rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b).

None of the claims are allowed.
